HOW TO DRESS

Layer up, layer down! Being able to adjust layers in response to activity level, air and body temperatures, you will stay comfortable throughout your trip. Choose fabrics that dry quickly, insulate if wet, and wick moisture away from the skin. Materials such as Capilene, wool, polypro, and fleece work well to wick moisture away and insulate. Nylon and Gore-Tex provide an excellent outer shell to repel wind and rain. If biking, padded biking shorts are suggested.
